CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

As the oldest accredited high school in Tulsa, Central has a rich heritage of service to the community dating back to 1906. Our graduates are some of Oklahoma's most well-known politicians, businessmen and civic leaders. Central High School for Fine and Performing Arts commits to embracing the power of creative expression, as well as therapeutic outlets for young people through poetry, music, dance, fashion and art. At Central, every student has a mentor that meets to discuss individual progress in academics and social and emotional learning as a Brave student. Teachers pride themselves on leveraging authentic relationships with students and families to challenge students to meet academic goals and increase secondary opportunities.

"I love the culture at Central, it is a family oriented environment. Everyone is here for each other, and when you come here you feel at home. We have a lot of fine arts and performing arts programs available. As a student, I've learned about discipline, punctuality, teamwork, and how to get through adversity."

Central's Arts Production and Management program is an interdisciplinary study combining business and the arts. Because strategic decision-making, finance, and emerging technologies are such an important part of arts management, this program teaches practical skills in grant-writing, fundraising, board development, communication, public relations, business management and marketing.

Thank you Tulsa for investing in every child and every school!

Because of you, every child in our district will see, feel, and experience the benefits of the 2021 Bond package. Tulsans have made a five-year $414 million investment in safe and accessible schools; state-of-the-art educational technology; sustainable student transportation; and rigorous, engaging, and culturally sustaining learning experiences that prepare students for success in college and careers.

At Central High School, the 2021 Bond for Tulsa Public Schools includes:

- » Track resurfacing and turf replacement.
- » Redesigning the cafeteria into a flexible, comfortable, multi-use space for students, teachers, and support professionals;
- » Upgrades to the auditorium lighting and sound system, new stage curtains, and repainting;
- » ADA-accessibility improvements in the auditorium, in school restrooms, and at building exits; and
- » Parking lot resurfacing and improvements to exterior lighting.
